County Port And Harbor Bill Voted

JACKSON, Miss.—Authority for Hancock County to create a county port and harbor commission in order to develop facilities in connection with the missile test site planned in the county was voted Monday by the Mississippi House.
Rep. Clarence Ladner, Hancock county, authored the measure which would permit the county to create a seven member port and harbor commission. Under the bill, the governor would appoint two members and five would be appointed by the county board of supervisors.
The county could levy up to a two mill ad valorem tax on property within the county, to fund bond issues for harbor or port development, and after July 1, 1964, the commission would have authority to request retention of two mills of the state's four mill ad valorem tax collected in the county.
The bill now goes to the Senate for action by that body.
The National Aeronautic and Space Agency is planning to build a $200 million static firing test site on Pearl River near Logtown to test-fire Saturn rockets produced at the Michoud plant in New Orleans.
The missiles will be sent to the test site by barge up Pearl River. Jockeying facilities must be established at the proposed site.

Michoud Plant Official Speaker At Rotary Luncheon Here

Keith Wible, executive assistant to the general manager of the Michoud Plant, was guest speaker at Wednesday's Bay Rotary luncheon. Mr. Wible discussed the NASA program rocket development in this area. The program, at the present time, he said, is composed of management personnel at the Michoud plant.
He cited that the space program began in 1945 when Dr. Von Braun and 150 German scientists were brought to the United States by the military and were stationed in Texas. In 1952, they were moved to Huntsville, Alabama, where they studied the booster for the satellite that went into orbit in 1958. In 1958, he continued, they were separated from the military Department and NASA was formed. Mr. Wible told of the effect the program had in Huntsville in the way of growth in population, new homes, schools and industries from 1952 to 1960.

Michoud, he added, was picked as the site for the program as the building had more than 43 acres under one roof, and for the deep water facilities, as rockets can only be moved by barge.
In Hancock County the test site, he pointed out, involves approximately 13,000 acres and the buffer zone about 130,000.
Chrysler's contract in connection with the project is approximately $200,000,000 and Boeing Aircraft about $300,000,000. It is anticipated, he concluded, that there will be about 8,000 employees at the Michoud plant when it starts in full force.

Hancock County circuit court jury confirmed the conviction of four Biloxi fishing boat operators in a justice of the peace court appeal case involving charges of catching, taking and transporting oysters without a license.
Judge Leslie B. Grant ordered captains Dudley Langlinis, Roy Migues, Rufus Batiste, and Walter Harris to pay a fine of $50 and court costs but granted a 15-day stay of execution.

The four boat captains were arrested over a year ago on charges of removing oysters from a reef off the Hancock County shoreline without proper permit.
The case was on appeal from a January 1961 hearing held before Hancock County beat five Justice of the Peace Russell Elliott.

A circuit court jury returned a directed verdict in finding the boat captains innocent of a charge of resisting arrest, also on appeal from the justice of the peace court.

In other cases prior to adjournment of the March term of circuit court Saturday:

Jerry Parker, 19, and M. G. Parker, 37, both of Opelika, Ala., were each sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary for burglary and larceny. The Parkers had pleaded guilty earlier to an indictment charging them with the theft of articles from the P. G. Dupont Sr. residence.

Arthur T. Diring, Robert Herbert and Carmen Cathron, all of Morgan City, La., each pleaded innocent to grand larceny charges involving the alleged theft of cattle from a farm near Ansley.

The case was continued to the September term and bail bond was set at $1,000 for each defendant.

Also continued to September was the case against Floyd Fricke, indicted for false impersonation of an officer.

William J. Hollingsworth and Homer Dean Jr. each changed pleading to guilty to burglary and larceny. Each defendant was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary but the sentences were suspended on future good behavior and each was placed on probation for one year.

The April meeting of the Hancock General Hospital Auxiliary was held Monday morning in the hospital conference room with Mrs. Leo Seal, president, presiding. Mrs. Robert Kemery led the devotional.

She pointed out that in order to be eligible for these awards, volunteers must sign the register each time they report for duty at the hospital. FATHER COSTELLO RETIRES AFTER 43 YEARS IN WAVELAND

The active ranks of the senior clergy of our Diocese of Natchez-Jackson have been thinned by the resignation of Father Michael Costello, Pastor of St. Clare's Church, Waveland. Truly, after his long, fruitful and truly zealous priestly life, it is our humble and sincere judgment that Father Costello deserves the rest and the leisure he has voluntarily requested in his resignation.

Father Costello, like so many of the priests in our splendid diocese for whose unselfish, devoted lives of faith, love and sacrifice our wonderful diocese stands as a living monument, came from Ireland. Born in County Meath of truly saintly parents, he imbibed early the faith and love of God and, inspired by the heroic sacrifices of the good people under the heel of persecution, he developed in his own generous soul a true spirit of humility and self sacrifice. It was in those early days of schooling that he heard that whispered invitation from the heart of Christ, "Come follow me." Like so many thousands of his fellow country priests, he looked beyond the horizon where the harvest was great and the laborers few. He went to St. Finian's College, Mullingar, and later to All Hallows, Dublin, where he matured spiritually and intellectually until his ordination in June, 1916. On arrival in the diocese, he received his first appointment as Assistant at Our Lady of the Gulf Parish, Bay St. Louis. On July 1, 1919, he was appointed Pastor of St. Clare's, Waveland. He has established somewhat of a record by serving 43 years as Pastor of the same Parish.

We have no intention of embarrassing Father Costello by heaping superlatives upon him. His accomplishments in the diocese have truly merited the deep admiration and affection of all.

We must remember that numerical statistics fail to tell a complete story. One simply does not grasp the immense spiritual implications. His achievements in the priesthood have been truly great-souled achievements.

Father's state of health no longer responds to the demands of his zealous soul and so he submitted his resignation as Pastor. In this is reflected his concern for the progress of the Church as he steps aside for a younger successor.

To him we pledge our continuing reverence and devotion as we make our prayer for him the prayer of Cardinal Newman,

"May God support him all the day long until the shade lengthens and the evening comes, and the busy world is hushed and the fever of life is over and his work is done. Then in His mercy, may He grant him a safe lodging and a holy rest and peace at last."

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

Mississippi Agricultural Extension Service.

On farms especially, but in all homes with flowers and shrubs, lawns and gardens and household bug problems, care must be taken to handle insecticides and fertilizers carefully.

Read labels carefully and follow precautions. Store the chemicals in their original containers. Dispose of empty containers safely.

CLEANING AND STORING ELECTRIC BLANKETS.

The time to take blankets off the beds and store them isn't far away.

Before you clean and store your electric blankets, be sure to check the instructions that came with the blanket. Follow them exactly. Most manufacturers recommend washing rather than dry cleaning.

If washing is recommended for your blanket, follow the blanket laundering instructions given for your washer. Some manufacturers recommend a soaking procedure for blankets and all recommended the minimum amount of agitation and the use of warm water.

Before you begin to wash, measure the blanket so you can block it back as nearly as possible to its original size, if necessary.

If the binding is extra soiled, brush it first with a soft brush moistened with warm water and the same detergent you will use in the washing.

Be sure the controls have been disconnected. Launder only one blanket at a time.

You may want to add one of the fabric softeners during the final rinse to give the blanket a luxurious softness.

When line drying, place the blanket across two lines. When drying in an automatic dryer, add 6 or 7 dry, clean towels to act as buffers. Since many blankets are not fast color, choose the towels with this in mind.

Air dry for awhile before storing or returning to the bed. Gently brush the dry blanket with a stiff brush to bring up the nap and help relieve some shrinkage.

You may notice the binding and iron with a warm iron or give a steam iron to help give the blanket a new look again.

If your blanket needs servicing be sure to take it to an authorized service shop. Don't try to repair it yourself.

Let's start off this week with something different than fishing. Some folks love other things besides fishing, so let's try to please all.

Friday night there were 12 boxing matches with teams from Bay St. Louis, Biloxi and Pascagoula held at S.S.C. Gym. The Bay St. Louis team was composed of Ronale Peterson, Glenn Blaise, Frank Balford and Orville Ferrell. The matches were sponsored by the Seafarers Club and the Bay St. Louis Jaycees.

The matches were evenly matched and the boys gave a good account of themselves. Reminded us of the matches held at S.S.C. a few years ago sponsored by St. Stanislaus College, Bay High, etc. Let's have more of them!

A picture in last Monday's Times-Picayune showed a group of teenagers in New Orleans participating in the free lessons in the proper handling of shotguns sponsored by South Louisiana Gun Club, with Jimmie Haneemann, club official in charge. More than 600 children, and their parents and sponsors, participating. Haneemann was one of the prime movers in initiating the youth program.

Participating were the sons of Dr. Emile Bertucci of Kilm, Miss. All boys love guns so let's show them how to use them properly. We think this was a wonderful act and let's have more of these. Proper handling of guns save lives and makes hunting a much more safer and pleasant sport. Local hunters could promote such lessons for our many Boy Scouts, etc.

Last Saturday a Walker Cup golf tourney was held at Pass Christian. Kilm Golf Club for members on March 31st and April 1st. Couldn't get the winners. An enthusiastic crowd played in the tourney.

Dick Tarlton was a happy father last week when he became the proud father of a baby girl. Even though it wasn't a boy Dick was passing out cigars to his friends. The little girl was named Margaret.

Our local game Warden Nolan Ladner is an ardent fisherman himself. Most local anglers are always happy to find baits which will catch fish. Nolan says that the Hellbender and the Bayou Boogie baits are tops. They are made by the Whopper Stopper Corporation, Sherman, Texas, and catch their share of fish.

Soft crabbing is getting better and better all the time. Floundering is also improving. Won't be long now until both these sports will pay good dividends.

News comes in that some few specks are being caught at the Keys and in the marshes.

Don't get the idea that a small boat is good for going to outside waters. It's best to have two motors when venturing to outside waters. Motors are like automobiles, the engine can go out any time and where are you? Be safe and have an auxiliary motor with you—walking on the water is an impossibility and it's a long way home when you are way out there.

It was a pleasure to meet John Hatter of Dallas, Texas this week. John was a guest of Charley Can-del and let's have more of these. Proper handling of guns save lives and makes hunting a much more safer and pleasant sport. Local hunters could promote such lessons for our many Boy Scouts, etc.

Dispute Won't Affect Federal Funds For Roads

WASHINGTON—Rep. Frank E. Smith, D-Miss., said Monday a federal-state dispute over a bond insurance provision in Mississippi state law will not block allocation of federal highway funds for the state.

The dispute arose from a ruling by the bureau of public roads objecting to Mississippi's requirement that bond insurance be handled only by Mississippi firms.

Smith, member of the House Public Works subcommittee on roads, said the bureau is forwarding to the comptroller general the Mississippi State Highway Department's request for a review of the bureau's ruling.

"While the general accounting office is reviewing this case, all allocation of funds to Mississippi will continue in the normal manner," Smith said in a statement.

ANTI-POLL TAX MEASURE PASSED BY U.S. SENATE

WASHINGTON—Freed from a two-week tangle over an anti-poll tax amendment, the Senate headed toward another scrap—whether to buy $100 million in U. N. bonds.

The way was cleared for action on the bond issue Tuesday when the Senate by a 77-16 vote approved the constitutional amendment to abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections.

The U. N. bond proposal was made the pending business before the Senate quit Tuesday night. But Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said debate on it may not get started until Thursday.

President Kennedy has asked authority to buy half of a $200 million U. N. bond issue to help pull the organization out of financial troubles. Some senators have objected strongly to the plan.

Mansfield indicated he would seek action first on a House-passed appropriation bill for the Treasury and Post Office departments and a batch of minor measures.

Prolonged speeches by Southern senators against the anti-poll tax amendment had held up committee meetings and other business. But the Southern abruptly broke off their speeches and when the vote came approving the amendment it was even more one-sided than the 72-16 margin by which the Senate adopted a similar amendment two years ago. It was well in excess of the required two-thirds majority.

The proposed amendment, one of two civil rights measures urged by Kennedy, now goes to the House. If approved by a two-thirds majority there, it will have to be ratified by three-fourths of the 50 states before becoming effective.

Sweetpotato Plant Growers List Available First Week In April

A list of all Mississippi Certified sweetpotato plant growers is being prepared and will be ready for distribution the first week in April. The list will contain the names and addresses of the Certified growers and will also give the varieties and bushels needed for the production of plants.

Certified sweetpotato plants are tied in bundles of 100 with Certified tape which gives the grower's number and the year of production. The sweetpotato tape this year has blue edges and is printed in blue ink. Requests for the list of Certified Sweetpotato Plant Growers should be addressed to the State Plant Board at State College, Mississippi.

How a Shell research team got 168.47 miles per gallon

A Shell research team drove this car to a Mileage Marathon record. They used the same Shell fuel that could be bought at Shell stations.

168 miles per gallon must be a world record. Here's how the record was made—and how a quiet marriage of careful driving and today's Super Shell can help you get better mileage.

SOME years ago, a group of Shell scientists had a friendly argument. The gist of it: who could get the most miles from a gallon of gasoline. They decided to find out. And Shell's Mileage Marathon was born. All contestants had to use the same gasoline anybody could buy at a Shell station. Beyond that, the Marathon had few rules. And ingenuity ran wild.

Here are some of the things that Dave Berry and Fred Schuette, the winning team, did to set their record.

- None are recommended for informal marathons. But they do offer a few clues on how to get more miles per gallon.
- Berry and Schuette removed their engine cooling fan to save power and muffled their radiator to retain heat.
- They used tires worn smooth and pumped up to 50 pounds pressure to cut rolling friction to a minimum.
- On the road, they accelerated to 20 miles per hour, cut the ignition and rolled until speed dropped to 5 miles per hour. Then they repeated the cycle.

NOTE: they used a standard carburetor

Since "on-and-off" driving is illegal on public roads—and since most Marathon modifications are dangerous for normal use—you may wonder if Shell's Mileage Marathon had any point. Indeed it did. In the months of preparations, every contestant learned a bit more about the care and feeding of automobiles. Knowledge of this sort gets passed along to you in the form of better Shell products for your car.

EXAMPLE: As a result of Shell's research studies, including many mileage tests, one of the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell is a mileage-booster called Platformate. This ingredient alone can release up to 8 percent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. Result: extra mileage.

To help boost mileage even more, follow these driving tips from Berry and Schuette.

How you can save gasoline

1. Don't race your engine when standing still. Unnecessary engine speed is pure waste and takes you nowhere.
2. Avoid jackrabbit starts. Fast getaways waste gasoline and power.
3. Drive at moderate speeds. Your car uses about 25 percent more gasoline at 65 mph than at 45 mph.
4. Keep an even speed. Ragged driving uses extra fuel—without taking full advantage of the power it could generate.
5. Pace yourself in traffic. Don't be the fastest or the slowest. You'll just be trapped into wasteful spurts and slowdowns.
6. Keep tires up to their proper pressure. Soft tires can soak up power.
7. Ask your Shell dealer about these checks: Spark timing should be set correctly. Fuel filters and air cleaner should be cleaned regularly. Brakes should be properly adjusted. And your cooling system thermostat must work right.

Motorists who follow these rules, and use Super Shell, can expect good mileage. Chances are, you can improve the mileage you are now getting. Now that you know how, why not give it a try?

Countdown time . . . 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, ZERO. America's heart skipped a beat. We held our breath through hours of suspense. And finally, the rescue. Mission accomplished.

Immediate reaction: "Thank God!" This was the cry of America, the mighty prayer which rose from its heart in a spontaneous flash of gratitude. THANK GOD.

It was pride we felt, pride in our skill and our scientific knowledge. But there was something more. There was FAITH. When man travels into the unknown, he needs the hand of God.

A new age has begun for mankind. Many more great days of exploration are ahead. Man will need the best products of mind and hand to conquer space.

But through every accomplishment, he will continue to need faith. Always from his heart will rise a fervent prayer, knowing that Divine help must be with him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FORESTRY NOTES

Area Forester Glenn Purvis of Hancock County announced today that, state-wide, Mississippi Forestry Commission fire control crews have been on-the-go almost continuously for the past two weeks.

Purvis said, "The high winds and dry conditions that have prevailed in most parts of the state recently have combined to cause the highest fire danger period to date this spring."

"Many of the fires," he continued, "have resulted from careless or indifferent burning off of fields and ditch banks."

He went on to explain that most of the wild fires arising from this cause could have been prevented by having a firebreak around the area; burning on days of relatively calm winds; burning against the wind in the late afternoon; and staying with the fire until it is out.

"Those who burn when the wind is extremely high," Purvis continued, "apparently do not realize the probability of its escaping and becoming a mean and ugly thing - difficult to control and dangerous to men and property alike; either that, or they do not care."

Area Forester Purvis requested that people who yet have burning to do, to observe these and other common sense precautions before burning. Neighboring landowners will appreciate this for the same moral principle is involved when a careless or malicious fire destroys a crop of timber as when it burns a crib of corn or a barn. A dollar's worth of timber has the same value as a dollar's worth of corn.

MORE BEEF PER ACRE FROM USE OF SOFT GRAIN

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Soft grain may be the answer to the question of how to produce more beef per acre. Three years of research at the Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville indicate this possibility.

Harvesting grain early—in the soft stage—greatly reduced field losses normally caused by birds, insects, storms, and poor machine efficiency. Too, under favorable weather conditions two crops can be grown in one season on the same land. There is time for a second crop of milo behind an early crop of corn or milo.

James C. Collins and Dr. Peter G. Hogg, Delta Station researchers, interpret results of their tests as follows:

"Harvesting of grain at a high-moisture content (45-50 per cent) offers opportunity to reduce field losses greatly. Where irrigation is available, a good second crop may be produced.

"There were no significant differences in rate of gain or carcass grades between steers fed soft grain, corn or milo, and steers fed dry ground grains. The addition of dry grains to soft grain rations gave only slight increase in daily gains but improved general appearance at slaughter time.

"Soft corn is more efficient in production of beef than is ground ear corn. Results from this test indicate that some method of cracking or grinding of soft milo may improve its feeding efficiency."

Detailed results on feeding tests and production of the forage for the years 1959, 1960 and 1961 have recently been published in the March issue of the Experimental Station periodical Mississippi Farm Research. These results are available on request from the Experiment Station at State College or the Delta Branch Station at Stoneville, Miss.
